A

Rose was an American photographer(摄影师). Back in 2008, she was going through a hard time in her life, so she often cried. One day, instead of brushing her tears away, she put one tear under a microscope(显微镜), wondering what her tear would look like.

She was surprised by what she saw. "So interesting," she told the interviewer. "It was beautiful, just as the sights I saw when I was looking down from a plane." It was such an amazing discovery! Then she started thinking about a question: Would a tear of sadness look any different from a tear of joy? What about a tear from cutting an onion?

With her husband's help, she collected 100 kinds of tears caused by different things and put them all under a microscope. She was surprised to find that their appearances were influenced by what made people cry. She thinks that this might be because of the different hormones(荷尔蒙) in the tears. These hormones may have an influence on the tears. Then she wondered if men's tears are different from women's tears. She was also surprised by what showed up under the microscope.

It was not a scientific study, yet there were many things that could influence the result. What she found was already something amazing. So when you open your eyes and think more, you will also find a different world.

51. Rose often cried in 2008 because she needed tears to do research.

52. By taking photos, Rose learned a lot about tears.

53. What Rose found was beautiful and amazing.

54. Rose found the appearances of tears were influenced by what made people cry.

Rafael was an old dog. When his owner died, the dog stayed near the house and waited for his owner to return. Some of the neighbors left food out for Rafael, Though they just thought the dog was friendly, they didn't care much about Rafael.

One day, Rafael walked into the neighbor's yard and began playing with 18-month-old Eve. Eve's young mother didn't like the dirty dog at first, But seeing her daughter having fun playing with him, she decided to let Rafael stay.

One afternoon, the girl's mother left Eve in the yard to play while answering the phone. When she returned, the baby was gone. The mother was scared and called the police. They looked for Eve for six hours, but nothing was found.

Then someone said he had heard barking(狗叫声)coming from the woods, So they all rushed to the woods. Eve was asleep against a tree. Rafael was keeping her there while one of his own legs was hanging over a deep hole. Actually, Rafael followed Eve when she walked away. Seeing her in danger, the dog held her safely for all those hours.

Eve's mother was so thankful to Rafael that she set up Pets Alive, a pet rescue(救援)center in

New York. She can't save every animal, but she knows that it was the old dog, Rafael, that saved her daughter's life,

C

Do family groups on WeChat do good to family members? Different students have different opinions. Here are some of them.

Jack, 12, Chongqing

I like to have a family group on WeChat. It's important to have a good relationship with our family members, and it shows that we love each other. In my family's WeChat group, we often share photos that show our daily lives. We freely talk about our work, school, or even entertainment. It is nice to communicate with people who know me well.

Rose, 14, Sichuan

I used to be in my family's WeChat group, but I'm not in it any more. I don't think it is very useful. Every morning, my family members all send the same emoji(表情), which says "Good morning, my friends". The emojis look really terrible. On weekends, they share many pictures while I'm trying to study. My phone keeps beeping, which really distracts(分散注意力) me.

Amy, 12, Fujian

WeChat family groups can help us do lots of things. For example, if you have something to tell your family, you can just send a message to the group instead of contacting(联系) the members one by one. This saves a lot of time. Also, different family members often live far away from each other. Not everyone contacts every other family member often. But family groups allow us to share our lives with everyone.

Dale, 12, Guangdong

Many people share their photos, addresses, and other private information in their WeChat family groups, which is not safe. Also, the long texts and continuous voice messages make me really worried. My family members often talk about something that has nothing to do with me, but I have to spend time checking the messages anyway. It causes me to spend more time on my phone. It is bad for my eyes.

59. Amy thinks WeChat group _____.

- A. helps to show our love B. is not useful at all
C. allows us to share our lives D. is not safe and bad for eyes

60. The underlined word "beeping" here probably means

- A. ringing B. crying C. dancing D. talking

61. Who are against family groups on WeChat?

- A. Jack and Rose. B. Amy and Dale. C. Rose and Amy. D. Rose and Dale.

62. The passage mainly talks about _____.

- A. how to communicate with people we know B. whether family groups on WeChat are good
C. how to send long texts and voice messages D. what we can talk about with family members

Your third year of middle school was probably a hard and busy time. You may have had trouble getting enough sleep. We all know that not getting enough sleep is not good for our health. And it has been found that less sleep could even cause you to have fewer friends, the researchers reported.

The researchers did a small study. They tested 18 young people who had just had a good night's sleep- as well as tested them again after a sleepless night. The participants(参与者) watched videos of people walking toward them. When the person on the video got too close to them, they pushed a button(按钮) to stop the video, which recorded how close they allowed the person to get. The results showed that the participants kept the person at a distance of 60 percent further back if they hadn't gotten enough sleep. They felt that their personal space was being invaded(侵占). But when the participants got a good night's sleep, they allowed the person to get much closer to them.

Matthew Walker, one of the researchers, told us that the less sleep you get, the less you want to communicate with others. In turn, other people may think you are strange and stay away from you. This can make you feel lonely and cause you to sleep even less. So if you want to be a more popular person, sleeping well might help. "One night of good sleep makes you feel more outgoing and socially confident." Walker told the Daily Mail.

63. Less sleep could make us _____ according to the researchers.

- A. get up early B. have fewer friends C. eat less food D. have more exercise

64. The research showed that when people _____, they allowed others to get much closer to them.

- A. slept well B. slept badly C. didn't sleep D. totally overslept

65 According to the passage, good sleep makes one _____.

- A. pleased and talented B. useful and helpful
C. lucky and comfortable D. outgoing and confident

阅读下面短文, 根据短文内容, 完成下列各题。

The most important things for life and health are clean water, warm sunshine and fresh air. And we all know that breathing fresh air can make us feel more energetic. However, not everyone in the world has the chance to enjoy it.

According to a new study from the World Health Organization(WHO), nine out of every 10 people on the planet breathe polluted air. Polluted air can get deep inside your lung when you breathe, causing diseases like lung cancer(肺癌) and heart disease, CNN reported. Around 7 million people die every year from breathing polluted air. More than 90 percent of these deaths happen in low-income and middle-income countries, mainly in Asia and Africa. Among the world's 20 most polluted cities, 14 are in India.

Some of the biggest sources of air pollution are factories and private cars. In some areas, sand and desert dust, as well as the burning of wastes, also cause air pollution. Another large source of air pollution can be found in some people's homes. More than 40 percent of the world's population is still using wood or open fires to make meals and heat their homes. This creates harmful wastes and gases indoors, WHO says.

Although this problem is serious, the good news is that some countries are taking action to fight it. India has provided 37 million poor women with free liquefied petroleum gas(液化石油气), while Mexico City has created cleaner vehicle standards(汽车标准), the Guardian reported.

91. What percent of people on the planet breathe polluted air according to WHO?

_____ percent of people on the planet breathe polluted air.

92. What do the underlined words "these deaths" in the second paragraph refer to?

They refer to people who die from_____.

93. What does the third paragraph mainly talk about?
